Your Booking.com partner account has been locked

Dear Partner,

We're writing to notify you that your Booking.com partner account with the log-in name pracas@hotmail.com has been locked due to inactivity over the last 6 months. We adopt this policy to ensure the security of your Extranet account.

If you still need the Extranet user account associated with this email, you can reactivate it by requesting a password reset.

To learn more about the online security measures we have in place as well as what you can do to further safeguard your own account, take a look at this info on the Partner Hub.

If you need further support, you can call us here.

Kind regards,
The Booking.com Team
